

Pacific Coast Chapter DMAC Newsletter for February 2019

The California Central Valley produces food for the west coast and some will tell you the world, so you'll see a variety of crops during your visit, but this region is known for its oranges and lots of them.

On Tuesday April 23rd we'll kickoff our first day of touring and our first stop will be at an undisclosed location hidden deep inside the Central California orange orchards. I can't go into detail right now or give the location here, but I can say we'll have a special opportunity to visit a private collection of over 70 restored Chevrolet cars and trucks. This is by special invitation only so you won't be able to see anything like this anywhere else.

Our next destination will be the community of Exeter. This town is very proud of its many murals painted on buildings throughout the downtown district. These works of art were painted in the style of early produce labels and all have hidden meanings, will you be able to figure them out? The town will provide us with a guided tour and later the city will assist with staging a photo shoot of the murals and our cars. The town of Exeter promises to rollout the red carpet so make sure the battery in your camera is fully charged!
